

WELCOME TO NORTH AUSTIN
PEDIATRICS
NEWBORN
ORIENTATION/MEET & GREET!

Choosing a pediatrician:

Before the delivery date:

Maternal immunizations (pass antibodies to baby):

- ABRYSVO (Pfizer) for RSV protection at 32-36 weeks gestation.
- Tdap vaccine during third trimester, 27-36 weeks gestation.
- Seasonal Influenza and COVID vaccines are also recommended.

Close Contacts immunizations:

Tdap vaccine at least 2 weeks prior to delivery (good for 5 years).

Seasonal Influenza and COVID vaccines are also recommended since newborn is high risk exposure.

Take a breastfeeding class & find your child's pediatrician

Purchase a breast pump, car seat, and a rectal thermometer!

Bring car seat to the hospital

Baby is born!!

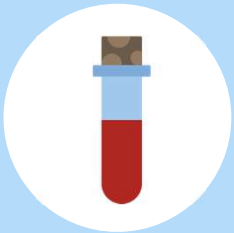

- Vaginal delivery: 36 to 48 hours in hospital
- C-section: three to four days in hospital
- Tell staff who the pediatrician will be
- A Hospitalist/Provider will examine the baby within 24 hours (and each subsequent day).
- Baby stays with mom in the hospital room
- “Meds x 3”: Vitamin K, erythromycin eye ointment, Hep B vaccine
- Call insurance to add baby when they are born, during the first 1-3 days is best! Please ensure you do this, do not believe anyone that tells you to wait until over 30 days old or to wait for birth certificate!!

Metabolic screening:

Texas screens for 59 disorders

First test done at 24-36 hours of life

Second test done in second week of life with pediatric provider

Screens for treatable & difficult to diagnose conditions

E.g. mental retardation, metabolic disorders, CF, sickle cell anemia, immune deficiencies, etc.

Other tests:

Bilirubin: First screen done at 24-36 hours of life

Jaundice; higher risk if premature or if mother has O blood type

Hearing screen

Needs to be diagnosed very early to be able to intervene

Congenital Heart Disease Screen

Circumcision:

The AAP's medical stance is "neutral plus"

Lower risk of urinary tract infections (UTI) in first 1-2 years of life; Lower risk of STDs and cancers in the future

Fewer hygiene problems

Visiting North Austin Pediatrics

Newborn follow-up

1-2 days after discharge home

Well Child Checks

2 weeks then 2, 4, 6, 9, 12, 15, 18, 24, 30 months and then yearly at age 3 and up

Practice Philosophy:

We're a small practice; therefore, you're a priority

We strongly encourage breastfeeding

We follow the American Academy of Pediatrics (AAP) guidelines for childhood immunizations and don't accept unvaccinated children! We want to protect our patients and staff!

We're conscientious about prescribing antibiotics
